

New Girl created by Elizabeth Hughes Meriwether
Reviewed by Emma

Television Series
Sitcom, Comedy

Give a summary without spoilers!

Quirky and unique, Jessica Day starts her life over after a horrible heartbreak living in a new LA loft, with 4 other boys. As the only girl, Jess has a lot to learn about living with these boys- but they have a lot to learn from her. This new group brings out the best in each other yet blindly leads each other into some hilarious predicaments.

What drew you to this tv show?

The characters are all fully developed and unique, which really drew me in. The dynamics between each character are so lovable and inviting. This show knows how to create comedy just from a character's interactions with the world.

Did it remind you of something that you've previously watched or read?

This show really reminded me of a more modern and developed Friends. Their friendship dynamic is similar, but the characters and their storylines are personally so much more interesting and fun to watch. I think that what makes this show so special is the fact that all the characters have such weird quirks, but they all fit so well together.

To whom would you recommend this movie?

New Girl would be perfect for someone who enjoys an easy going and silly show. It is super silly and easy to follow along, while still addressing some larger issues.

Overall, did you like it and would you recommend it to others?

I would recommend it to others because it is the perfect comfort show. You will fall in love with the characters and find yourself putting on this show as a pick me up.

Anything else that you would like to add to this review? What made you choose it? Did you like the cover? Was it recommended to you? Did you find it at the library?

I initially chose this show because of all the excitement I heard from reviews. I would see little clips from the show that would make me laugh and want to see more, so I eventually put it on and instantly fell in love. This show is silly and sweet, definitely something everyone should indulge in to make their days better!